

Ty Bello - Atoned Lyrics

LYRICS

I was on your mind that day When they crucified you What did you think of me What did you see Did you see my disregard For the pain you suffered And if you did how did you take the scars

Knowing that I'd break your heart It only makes sense when I look at it all from a lover's view You did it all for a chance just one chance I'd be with You Reconciled to You Though You knew the world would not receive You Still You gave Your Life to try Even with our faults Even in our sins You loved us still

Now I know I can never repay You But I'll dedicate my life to try For it's no longer my own You purchased me whole when You atoned For my sins From a lover's view You did it just for a chance I'd be with You Eh eh eh oh oh Oh oh
