

Ty Bello - He's Always By My Side

LYRICS

I have a very big God He's always on my side A very big God o On my side, on my side Bring your accusations He's always on my side This very big God o He's on my side, He's on my side You cannot change his mind

He's always on my side This very big God o On my side, on my side I have a very big God He's always on my side A very big God o On my side, on my side Bring your accusations He's always on my side The very big God o On my side, on my side I have a very big God o

He's always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side I am never lonely He's always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side No matter the battle

He's always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side Tell my accusers He's always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side Tell the Accuser

He's always by my side The very big God o By His blood, on my side Bring your accusation He's is still by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side I can now go forward He's is always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side I don't stand alone

He's always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side I don't walk alone He's always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side Doesn't matter how you see me He's always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side

He's the God who never leaves me Always by my side The very big God o By my side, by my side He would never leave me He's always by my side This very big God o By my side, by my side He would not forsake me Always on my side

This very big God o By my side, by my side He's by my side, by my side By my side, by my side He's by my side, by my side By my side, by my side
